MISCELLANEOUS READING.

A POETICAL PROPHECY. The "Pote" of the Buffalo Republican, who has before written many "feelink" verses, in a late "pome" thus refers to the French

"But wate. You keep a putin On airs, and bimeby sum of the Frenchmen'll Git mad, and not be afrade of the 100,000 Baynits which is raised to protect you, and Sum of 'em will pull up pavin stuns, and Sum will build barrykades, and ravenous Femailes and starvin men'll tare down the Iron railling arounr your boarding house (the Tooleries) and shriek bread and venegeance & blood in youre young six pound ears, and Prehaps, sum tall granny dear, fierce In his moustachet and bitter in hate, and A bilin over with revenge, will take you By the leg and knock your head on the stun

Steps of the palins." And this scurrilous language is addressed to "six pounds of red Frenchman, born in

DON'T KILL THE BIRDS.

A multitude of them have perished during the winter; give the survivors a chance. We fully concur with the Hartford Courant when

"Shame on the man or boy who kills robins at this season of the year! It is a dastardly thing-upsportsmanlike. The youth who murders robins in the spring is the same young man who kills hired horses because they are hired, cheats his creditors, and abuses his mother. These qualities go in clusters; and where you find a boy or man mean enough to shoot a robin in April, you find a coward! Pass the boy who kills robins in April on to his moral pillory."

CURIOSITY PUNISHED.

A policeman in Buffalo left a pair of handcuffs in a store, and went away out of town. The same day a porter in the store thought be would try them on. The hand-cuffs are so constructed that they lock by means of a spring, and cannot be opened except by a peculiarly shaped key, which is made to fit each pair. The man's wrists were soon inserted, but they were not se easily removed. He rushed frantically to the police but no one could unlock the cuffs. He wore the ornaments from Saturday till Monday, when he was released.

At a Kansas meeting lately held in New Haven, where one parson presided, another parson spoke, and a Deacon volunteered, it was announced that Miss Mary Dutton gave twenty-five dollars for the purchase of a rifle to be used in a contemplated civil war.

Shoulder arms! Miss Mary Dutton-Your knapsack buckle tight : Your soger breeches put on, And show'em how to fight!

Quick, march upon the foes!

(A Bible in your pocket,) Hold up your head! turn out your toes! Present your rifle-cock it! Take aim, and sight it well; And now the trigger-pull it-And send a slaveholder to hell-
